Facing Anti-Bullying head on at St. B

We had a thought provoking, sometimes hilarious and sometimes serious week as we celebrated National Anti-Bullying week and Children In Need last week.

Children in every year group had several theatre and performance opportunities with M and M Theatre Group performing a wonderful traditional panto with a twist and, the incredible Joe and Andy from CBeebies Rhyming Rockets both entertaining and educating!

LEARNING

Making a compliments web or kindness hero, reading and listening to stories with a theme around kindness, accepting difference and debating and discussing big ideas such as 'is it ever right to be a bystander?' or 'should we retaliate to bullying?' helps children navigate difficult themes and ideas.

Younger children saw a hilarious and brilliant word play show and older children took part in an incredible filming workshop- we have some future producers and directors on our hands!

We discussed on Odd Socks Day that we are all different and being our own selves is important but, we also have so much more in common!

Other news...

We loved the M & M Theatre Production of Jack and the Beanstalk!

Year 6 Remembrance Day art work was both moving and beautifully done.

Children from Reception to Year 6 impressed us with their incredible holiday homework. Well done!
